Subject: FARA Institute Sponsorship Program

With the continued pressure our economy is placing on public safety agencies throughout the US and Canada, the need to further reduce false alarms is great but the agencies' resources are diminished. FARA's library of publications and variety of programs, developed through the effort of its volunteers, provides valuable guides and information.

However, our Annual Training Symposium continues to be our best outreach program. Each year experienced and inexperienced alarm managers gather to share tips on successful programs and learn to overcome the challenges that confront the alarm manager each day. Equally valuable is the industry participation and the ability to meet and discuss issues face to face. This interaction is vital to ensuring that FARA is keeping up with all the industry trends that can affect alarm management programs.

We are still facing the economic demands that restrict funding for travel in many localities. FARA's established Institute Sponsorship Program helps government alarm managers get to the training symposium; but we only succeed with the support of companies and people like you.

We have expanded our acknowledgement of your generous participation in the Institute Sponsorship Program through constant publicity in all of our communications and on our website. Additionally, FARA membership dues are included in the Gold and Platinum sponsorship levels. Please take a moment to review the enclosed form for more details.

We ask you to think about the value that each alarm manager, who has been exposed to the successful cooperative techniques, brings to the false alarm reduction effort and contribute accordingly.

Please feel free to contact any one of us if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

The FARA Board of Directors.
